Although the two are obviously linked, they are different and should not be confused. The typical emphasis on the continuity between the Cartesian impulse and the phenomenological approach to Hegel is supported by two factors. These include those devoted to its exegesis, those dependent on Heideggerian approaches in studies of phenomenology and the history of philosophy, and those whose own views are crucially dependent on Heideggerian insights, most prominently Derrida.

La Bhagavad Gita. Mar 2. Qu'est-ce que c'est qu'un nom d'auteur? What then is this composition in Deleuze's philosophy of the 'grand identity' between Nietzsche and Spinoza?
